About us

All our courses are evidence-based, directly relevant to practice and underpinned by current research. Our educators endeavour to ensure that you find the sessions valuable as well as enjoyable.

The team are experienced, committed to supporting you and keen to provide stimulating sessions which help motivate and educate. We want to help you make the most of your learning opportunity and realise your potential.

The student experience is at the heart of everything we do, and we hope that you will enjoy your study with us. We believe that good learner-centred education leads to excellence in person-centred care.

We welcome students with additional support requirements and disabilities, and will make every effort to support their needs. The program has been designed to incorporate a variety of ways in which you can access the information you need to undertake learning around each topic, and we will support you to complete the program.

If you require any additional support or guidance, please contact us and we will do our best to support you with your learning experience.

We offer a range of learning opportunities available for a variety of healthcare professionals; please don't hesitate to get in touch!

Please visit our website springhill.org.uk/education for more information and book a course.

Awards and Accreditations

We are approved trainers of the Oliver McGowan Tier 2 Mandatory Training. Our trainers, Pauline and Jane, are registered as approved training providers by NHS Training, Workforce and Education.

The Oliver McGowan Code of Practice sets out standards for training on learning disability and autism for Care Quality Commission (CQC) registered health and social care providers and their staff.

We won the Princess Royal Training Award in both 2020 and 2025, which is a very prestigious achievement and one we are very proud of!

The Princess Royal Training Awards honour organisations that demonstrate outstanding commitment to learning and development, and highlight the tangible impact of exceptional training on both businesses and individuals.

We are dedicated to delivering inclusive, compassionate learning to those who provide care in the end stages of a person's life. We deliver practical, informative and emotive sessions with care at the heart of everything we do.

Meet the Springhill Education Team!

We are a team of five with decades of experience in palliative care. Our roles have varied over the span of our careers; but have all centred on patient care. Starting out as Nurses or Healthcare Assistants, our Team has developed their passion for end of life care and the importance it serves, which has led to all of us being part of this award winning team!

We are also extremely fortunate to be supported by some amazing volunteers!

Jane Ashworth
Education Lead

My journey began in 1990 as a Healthcare Assistant in a nursing home, where I discovered my passion for compassionate caregiving. After working as an Auxiliary Nurse and completing NVQs 2 and 3, I pursued a diploma in adult nursing at university, later earning a BSc and MSc. However, it was my experience in palliative care that truly inspired and shaped my career.

Pauline Howarth
Education Facilitator

My interest in palliative care began as a hospital-based Staff Nurse, which led me in to hospice care, where I have worked since 1994. In 2020, I joined Springhill Hospice's Education Team, inspired by the exceptional teaching and the way it empowers health and social care workers, to deliver outstanding care for those with life-limiting conditions.

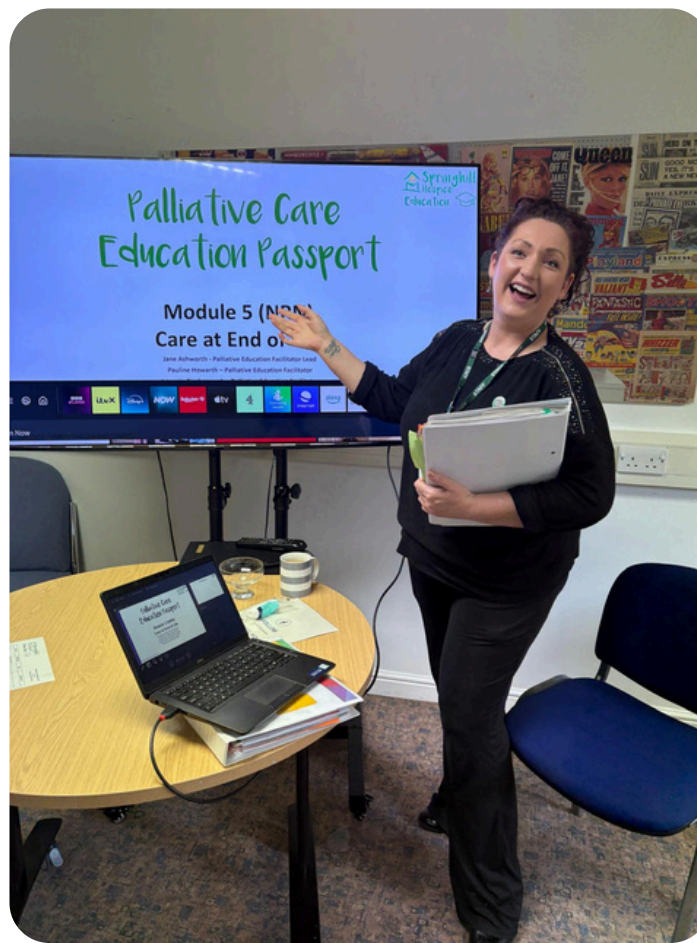

Angela Ogden
Education Administrator

I began volunteering at the Hospice in August 2015 after a 40-year banking career. By December, I joined as a part-time staff member supporting Community Services and Education. Now, I'm based in the Education Unit, providing administrative support to the team.

Helen Seth
Educator

I began my career as a Community Healthcare Assistant, where training sessions with the Hospice, including the Palliative Care Passport, ignited my passion for improving end of life care. The Hospice's learning opportunities not only enhanced my own practice but also positively impacted those I worked with.

Sapphire Hogg
Education Facilitator

With over a decade of experience as a Registered Nurse in palliative care, I transitioned into an educational role two years ago. My passion lies in empowering healthcare professionals through education, equipping them with the knowledge and skills needed to deliver the highest standard of care to patients and their loved ones, during life's most vulnerable moments. I am passionate about advancing palliative care education with a focus on addressing inequalities to ensure compassionate care for all.

Advanced Diploma CPD

Degree and Masters level (HE6 HE7)

Multidisciplinary End of Life Care Module

This advanced professional development course is offered by the University of Greater Manchester in partnership with local hospice providers.

This course is ideal for health or allied health and social care professionals, involved in caring for individuals with life-limiting illnesses and end of life care. This is not limited to individuals working in the hospice setting.

We offer a systematic understanding and critical awareness of current problems and new insights in this field.

You will be supported to develop the theoretical knowledge and reflective abilities needed to deliver high-quality physical, social, spiritual and psychological care to those nearing the end of life and their loved ones.

We also focus on helping you to develop a deeper understanding of the importance of inter-professional, multidisciplinary and multi-agency working, crucial in delivering EoLC.

Skills in this complex and sensitive area of contemporary health and social care are in increasing demand.

University of Greater Manchester

This programme adopts a blended learning and teaching style. Assessment is through a 20 minute presentation followed by a 20 minute viva.

You will learn:

- Collaborative working
- Symptom control
- Future planning - Advance Care Plan
- Ethical principles
- Self-care/resilience
- Communication - difficult conversations
- Holistic assessment
- Loss grief and bereavement
- Library skills
- Critical analysis

What is a Viva?

A Viva is an oral examination, often referred to as a thesis defence, in which a student defends their research to a panel of examiners who assess their knowledge of the subject and the quality of their work. The examiners ask questions to ensure the student truly understands their research, has become an expert in their field, and can critically analyse their own work and that of others.
